

HOPE HIGH SCHOOL MINISTRY

DATING + SEXUAL INTEGRITY

SMALL GROUP LEADER PACKET

Hey awesome High School Small Group Leaders!

During the teenage phase, what's repeated is what's remembered. This is why Student Ministry provides an annual series on temptation with an age-appropriate emphasis on dating and sexual integrity. The goal of this teaching theme is to empower students to navigate attraction, dating and sex with a foundation in God's Word. Integrity means doing the right thing in all circumstances, even if no one is watching. God calls His followers to sexual integrity, which means choosing to respond to sexual attractions, feelings, thoughts, and desires in a way that respects God, others, and ourselves. This is too influential and important a topic to skip.

PURSUING SEXUAL INTEGRITY

- We encourage staff, leaders, and parents to use the language “sexual integrity” over “sexual purity” because the term “sexual purity” can have a lot of baggage associated with it. What if a student has crossed a line and sexually or lustfully sinned or does so in the future? There is grace, redemption, and power when they turn to Jesus in repentance! Sexual integrity is about saying, “YES!” to living a faithful, abundant life as a sexual being according to how God has designed you.
- Our students need to know God’s love them first and foremost. A goal for these conversations is not simply behavior modification or for students to try to self-will themselves to stay virgins, but for students to connect with the transformational work of Jesus in their lives and live in His design for them. All of our obedience, all of our ability to pursue sexual integrity, is a response to God’s love for us and through His power working within us.

WHAT DO MY STUDENTS NEED FROM ME?

- Your students don't need you to have all the right answers. They are in a phase where an important part of owning their faith means discovering the right answer themselves. They simply need you to be a safe place to have conversations, seek answers, and guide them in the right direction.
- Your students don't need you to teach your opinion but for you to help them understand God's word. Read the included materials, study and prepare for your Small Group in advance.
- You don't need to have a perfect past-record in this area to lead, simply a heart that has repented towards God and is strongly seeking to take steps in the right direction. Letting students know some of your past struggles may even help them relate to you and trust your advice, but remember to keep conversations age-appropriate. Be cautious when you share, speaking generally and avoiding specifics or graphic comments. If you question if sharing would cause a student to struggle, then hold off sharing.

MSM + HSM Series Overview

Teaching Theme: Dating and Sexual Integrity | The goal of this teaching theme is to empower students to navigate attraction, dating and sex with a foundation in God's Word.

Semester: Fall 2022

Series Overview: Culture says to follow your heart, the Bible says don't. Our hearts often try to pull us towards things that God has made clear aren't the best for us. In this series we will talk about what it looks like to surrender your heart to God and let Him call the shots in our lives.

Wk A: Nov 9 +13 – Pulling on the Heart Strings

- Main Point: God gave us feelings, but our feelings aren't God.
 - Sub Point: Your heart doesn't direct you, you direct it to God.
- Main Scriptures: Jeremiah 17:9, Proverbs 3:5-6, Ephesians 2:2-5
- Cross Connection: When Jesus was in the garden, He had feelings of not going through with the sacrifice, but said I came to do the will of my father.

Wk B: Nov 16 +20 – Self Control

- MSM Main Point: God gives us the power to choose integrity even when it's not easy.
- HSM Main Point: Just because I can does not mean I should or need to.
 - Sub Point: All of your decisions have consequences. Which ones are worth it?
- Main Scriptures: Jeremiah 17:9, Genesis 39:1-23
- Additional HSM Supporting Scripture: Romans 6:23, Matthew 6:13, 1 Corinthians 6:18, 1 Thessalonians 5:22, Proverbs 29:23, Galatians 1:10
- Cross Connection: Even if we have had moments without self-control where we've given into sin, Jesus still offers us forgiveness. He was strong when we couldn't be. He believes in you so much that He was willing to die for you. And now we have the Holy Spirit to fill us with self-control.

FREQUENTLY ASKED STUDENT QUESTIONS AND WISDOM TO HELP YOU ANSWER

WHEN CAN YOU HAVE SEX?

Officially, sexual immorality is used in the Bible to describe sex outside of marriage, including lust. God created and designed sex to be enjoyed by 1 man and 1 woman committed to each other in marriage. (Genesis 2:24 NIV) Sex is beautifully designed to bring together a man and woman in marriage. If you married, the wise thing to do is to create healthy boundaries in your life so you are staying far from sexual sin.

HOW FAR IS TOO FAR TO GO BEFORE MARRIAGE?

“How far is too far” is a BIG question that comes up a lot, but really it can be the wrong question if we are just asking “How far can I go before I sin?” It’s like walking up to the edge of the cliff, putting one foot over the edge, and hoping not to fall. Not the wisest. The wiser thing to ask is, “Is this wise to do? Is this tempting me to go farther?” If it’s tempting you to go farther, then STOP!

Relevant Bible verses:

- Ephesians 5:15-17: “So be careful how you live, not as fools but as those who are wise. Make the most of every opportunity for doing good in these evil days. Don’t act thoughtlessly, but try to understand what the Lord wants you to do.”
- 1 Corinthians 6:18-19: “Run away from sexual sin! No other sin so clearly affects the body as this one does. For sexual immorality is a sin against your own body. Or don’t you know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit, who lives in you and was given to you by God?”

BUT CAN’T WE SLEEP TOGETHER IF WE ARE IN LOVE?

God’s healthy boundaries for sex isn’t love, it’s in marriage. Love may “feel” right, but there are negative consequences of having sex outside of marriage. In God’s definition of love, love is patient and kind; it does not seek to please itself, nor does it delight in evil, but is always hopeful (1 Corinthians 13). True love would be patient in waiting for the proper time for sex. It would be kind to future spouses by not harming marital intimacy. True love would be unselfish in placing God’s desires and the needs of others above itself. It would not delight in the evil of disobedience, nor would it force another to disobey God. Love could never be a reason for premarital sex; rather, it should be one of the greatest reasons to avoid premarital sex. “But we’re going to be married anyway.” This is another common excuse. Along with being presumptuous, this stance will almost certainly leave one question unanswered: If one gives in to moral temptation before marriage, what’s to stop him or her from giving in to moral temptation once married?

WHAT IF I’VE ALREADY GONE TOO FAR?

Good question! Certainly a person cannot reverse the past, but there are a number of steps one should take to keep from further damaging his or her intimacy with God and others.

First, acknowledge your actions as sin. For those who have accepted Christ’s payment of the penalty for our sins, He asks that we confess - agree with God that they are sinful.

Second, maintain purity from this moment forward. Jesus told the woman caught in sexual sin to “go and sin no more” (John 8:11). You cannot change what’s been done, but you can keep yourself and others from any further damage by avoiding situations which might cause you to compromise your commitment to sexual purity. Paul advised Timothy to run away from temptation (2 Timothy 2:22), and Joseph is famous for running from moral danger (Genesis 39:7-12).

WHAT IF I’M DATING SOMEONE AND I KNOW THEY ARE NOT THE BEST FOR ME OR CHRISTIAN RIGHT NOW?

This is a tough place to be because you likely care deeply for the person. We encourage you to break up with them. The longer you wait, the more you are wasting your time and theirs. You can be kind when you break up with them, but be clear. The purpose of dating is not to be on the mission field; the purpose of dating is not to be someone’s support system. You shouldn’t feel pressure to date for either of these reasons. Pray for God to guide you in breaking up with them.

IS MASTURBATION AND/OR PORNOGRAPHY A SIN?

One can not point to a verse in the Bible and read that masturbation is wrong. However, what accompanies the act of masturbation is usually something visual—whether only in the mind or by viewing pornography in pictures or video. Those things would fall under the category of immorality since giving in to immoral thoughts is sin—masturbation is enacting sex with an object (woman or man) in mind. Jesus even said that a married man commits adultery when he thinks lustfully after a woman (Matthew 5:27-28). So to masturbate—enacting sex—while thinking of a man or woman who is not your spouse is sinful because it is immoral. Sex is meant to be between a man and a woman in the context—and only in the context—of marriage. This is saying nothing about masturbation creating an emotional guilt that is hard to relieve until the act and/or habit is stopped. Sin produces shame in our lives, but Jesus’ saving grace and redemption brings healing and freedom in our lives.

I'M STRUGGLING TO STOP, HOW CAN I STOP?

If you are struggling with masturbation and/or pornography and want to stop, several things are helpful.

1. First, acknowledge that it is sin and that it brings emotional guilt.
2. Second, make a decision to stop.
3. Third, have a plan not to do it again. It is this third and final step that most people don't do. Good intentions without a solid plan inevitably leads to repetition.

A good plan always includes accountability. Find a God centered adult, maybe a parent or guardian or small group leader; that you can tell in confidence who will follow up and ask you if you are victorious. A good plan also includes what action you will take when you are tempted. Maybe get up and go hang out with someone else, pray, memorize Scripture, sing praise songs. How can you lean into God to help you fight in the moment of temptation?

Be aware of when you are most susceptible to masturbating: Stress? After you are away from your boyfriend or girlfriend and begin thinking of them in a sexual way? Pornography? The books you read? Once you determine the contributing factors, tell your accountability partner. Knowing the factors and telling someone trustworthy are ways to break the cycle of repetition.

LEADER TIPS

IS IT TOO EARLY TO HAVE THESE CONVERSATIONS?

- Crushes, new feelings, attractions, urges and even pressures to date are becoming more and more of our students' worlds as they grow up. We want to have age-appropriate conversations that prepare students.
- We intentionally have it built into the first message for the speaker to say "sex" on stage because it's a word that carries a lot of weight, and we will break the ice from stage that church is a safe place to talk about sex.
- Did you know the average age of exposure to porn is 8-11 years old? 80% of this happens within the home. Our goal is to equip students to know how to respond Biblically when sexual temptations occur.

CREATE A SAFE PLACE FOR STUDENTS TO SHARE

- Leading in Grace and Truth: Students may share times where they've crossed Biblical lines or even things that shock you. Remember, Jesus offers grace and forgiveness to all of us. As you lead and share God's truth, also reflect His grace to your students.
- Remember that you may have students who have experienced sexual abuse on some level. This conversation could lead them to eventually open up to you about that, so be prepared to follow up, support, and point them toward help if and when they do. We've included the Safe Zone procedures for you to review and refresh your memory on what to do if a student shares something that may potentially be abuse.

WHAT THIS SERIES IS NOT:

- It's not an encouragement to date.
- It's not a sex education class.

WHAT THIS SERIES IS:

- An opportunity to open communication channels and encourage students to seek Godly wisdom and advice in an area they may not feel comfortable to bring up on their own.
- An opportunity for students to build some Biblical foundations in a pivotal area of life that can have huge impact on their future.
- An opportunity to partner with parents by not only sharing what we are talking about with them in advance, but consistently encouraging our students to have conversations with their parents on this topic at home.

Week A The Feelings Awaken

LEADER PREP

MAIN POINT

God gave us feelings, but our feelings are not God.

SCRIPTURE

Jeremiah 17:9, Ephesians 2:2-5, Proverbs 3:5-6. Luke 22:42

GOAL OF SMALL GROUP

To help students learn how to navigate their emotions to follow Jesus' words above them

THINK ABOUT THIS

Our feelings are often strong but they change all the time, sometimes from minute to minute. In the teenage years, emotions can feel extra heightened and intense and can toss us around like a storm tosses a boat on a sea, but our world acts like our emotions are the most reliable thing to follow. Help your students see God is deeper than their emotions, like the bottom of the sea. Think through for yourself: how do you pursue God in the middle of strong emotions? What tips from your own life can you share with your students about pursuing God through feeling different emotions? Give your students some practical examples from your life. It may help them see how they can pursue their faith when they are told different than what God says to do.

This guide is a suggestion, not a formula. Adjust the questions and activities as needed, and don't feel like you need to do, or ask, everything you see here. Let the students and the Holy Spirit guide the conversation, too.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

THE CHECK IN

- How was everyone's week? Share Highs & Lows.
- Someone recap the main point of the message.
- What was a time where you were really passionate about something you were into?
- Tell us about a time you had to do something you didn't really feel like doing, but the Bible said to.
- Legitimately, is following your feelings a good reason for not doing something that is important? Why or why not? (The goal of this question is to get to the idea that people live by the mantra of "doing what feels right to you". We want to push back on this, because our natural desires aren't always what is best for us.)

THE WORD

READ Jeremiah 17:9

- Why is the human heart described like this?
- Have you ever noticed this about things you were interested in?
- Do you feel drawn to do things that you are passionate about that God says to turn away from?
- How can you fight your own emotions when they get really strong?

NEXT STEP

- The overall truth is that God gave us our feelings, but our feelings are not God.

Ways to follow God's word above our feelings:

- Pray - Talking with God gives us strength to overcome any obstacle. How often do you pray for help with tough situations? Is it better to lean
- Trust In The Lord - Proverbs tells us to trust God with all of our heart. Do you find it difficult to trust God completely? Why or why not?
- Check you desires with God - Whenever you have a strong emotion, God wants us to talk to Him about it so that we can get a clear understanding of how to interact with those feeling. Do you think this process will help you? Why or why not?

PRAY

We are going to close in prayer.
Anyone have any prayer requests?

Jeremiah 17:9

"The human heart is the most deceitful of all things, and desperately wicked. Who really knows how bad it is?"

Ephesians 2:2-5

"You used to live in sin, just like the rest of the world, obeying the devil—the commander of the powers in the unseen world. He is the spirit at work in the hearts of those who refuse to obey God. 3 All of us used to live that way, following the passionate desires and inclinations of our sinful nature. By our very nature we were subject to God's anger, just like everyone else. 4 But God is so rich in mercy, and he loved us so much, 5 that even though we were dead because of our sins, he gave us life when he raised Christ from the dead. (It is only by God's grace that you have been saved!)"

Proverbs 3:5-6

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart; do not depend on your own understanding. Seek his will in all you do, and he will show you which path to take."

SCRIPTURE

Jeremiah 17:9, Genesis 39:1-12

GOAL OF SMALL GROUP

To help students learn how to resist temptation and choose Jesus above their own desires.

THINK ABOUT THIS

Our feelings are often strong but they change all the time, sometimes from minute to minute. In the teenage years, emotions can feel extra heightened and intense and can toss us around like a storm tosses a boat on a sea, but our world acts like our emotions are the most reliable thing to follow. DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

THE CHECK IN

- How was everyone's week? Share Highs & Lows.
- Someone recap the main point of the message.
- When was the last time you felt strongly tempted to do something? (Last week, this morning, etc.)
- Why do some people feel like they have to give into strong emotions when they show up?
- How often are teens faced with temptations?
- When people are faced with temptations, what does that feel like?

THE WORD

READ Genesis 39:1-12

- What sticks out the most to you in this story?
- How do you feel about Joseph's response to that temptation? Was it rational? Why or why not?
- Why is honoring God with our actions so important?
- Is it easy or hard to resist temptations that look easy?
- Do you feel like there are levels to being obedient to God? Is it worse if you can get caught vs if no one will know?
- This was a big temptation in Joseph's case, but do you respond to small temptations like Joseph did in this story? If no, why not? (Reminder: this is a safe place for us to be real with each other, we all fight temptations.)

NEXT STEP

- The overall truth is that Even when we don't feel like giving it, God wants our devotion.

Ways to grow in our faith when we don't feel like it:

- Admit how you're feeling to a trusted adult - Please know you can always talk to me more about this - I'm here for you. Who are other adults in your life you can talk to for guidance with temptations?
- Ask God to give you a passion and desire to follow Him - Read Zephaniah 3:17 - how can this verse help?
- Remember to Acknowledge where your emotions are coming from - honesty and openness about our feelings will help us to grow. Do you feel you can be honest with God? Why or why not?

PRAY

We are going to close in prayer.
Anyone have any prayer requests?

Jeremiah 17:9

"The human heart is the most deceitful of all things, and desperately wicked. Who really knows how bad it is?"

Genesis 39:1-12 NIV

"Now Joseph had been taken down to Egypt. Potiphar, an Egyptian who was one of Pharaoh's officials, the captain of the guard, bought him from the Ishmaelites who had taken him there.

2 The Lord was with Joseph so that he prospered, and he lived in the house of his Egyptian master. 3 When his master saw that the Lord was with him and that the Lord gave him success in everything he did, 4 Joseph found favor in his eyes and became his attendant. Potiphar put him in charge of his household, and he entrusted to his care everything he owned. 5 From the time he put him in charge of his household and of all that he owned, the Lord blessed the household of the Egyptian because of Joseph. The blessing of the Lord was on everything Potiphar had, both in the house and in the field. 6 So Potiphar left everything he had in Joseph's care; with Joseph in charge, he did not concern himself with anything except the food he ate.

Now Joseph was well-built and handsome, 7 and after a while his master's wife took notice of Joseph and said, "Come to bed with me!"

8 But he refused. "With me in charge," he told her, "my master does not concern himself with anything in the house; everything he owns he has entrusted to my care. 9 No one is greater in this house than I am. My master has withheld nothing from me except you, because you are his wife. How then could I do such a wicked thing and sin against God?"

10 And though she spoke to Joseph day after day, he refused to go to bed with her or even be with her.

11 One day he went into the house to attend to his duties, and none of the household servants was inside. 12 She caught him by his cloak and said, "Come to bed with me!" But he left his cloak in her hand and ran out of the house."

NOTES

Leading in Grace and Truth

With an LGBTQ+ emphasis
(lesbian - gay - bisexual - transgender)

Main Goal: Create a Safe Place to Belong

Lead your group to value acceptance, confidentiality, and honesty. Also, know what you can and can not keep confidential.

Atmosphere of Grace: An atmosphere begins with the heart but it is reflected in speech. Even casually using the phrase "that's so gay" in a derogatory manner shuts down an atmosphere of grace. Do not speak this way and immediately correct students who do. All students belong in our ministry - no matter their beliefs or behavior.

A storm cloud can form in the soul when an individual feels tension between their religious and sexual identities.

What do I do if a student shares they have a sexual identity struggle?

First, remember the immediate steps below. Then, mentor and resource.

ACKNOWLEDGE

Acknowledge their COURAGE in sharing such personal information with you

THANK

THANK them and show your GRATITUDE for their TRUST in you

BUILD YOUR TEAM

Encourage them to build a caring, godly support team. Offer to be a part and help recruit others, like their parents or youth leaders.

YOU BELONG HERE

Remind the student they belong here. We are so glad they are here and we are excited to get to know them more.

Is God Anti-gay? By Sam Allberry

A Biblical look at homosexuality and same-sex attraction

Christian Sexuality

A set of videos for teens and their leaders. Contact us for login information or check out their free videos on YouTube

What does the Bible say?

"All Scripture is inspired by God and is useful to teach us what is true and to make us realize what is wrong in our lives. It corrects us when we are wrong and teaches us to do what is right." - 2 Timothy 3:16 (NLT)

- ▶ God created us male and female (Genesis 1:27 & 5:2)
- ▶ Homosexual behavior is a sin (Leviticus 18:22 & Romans 1:18-27)
- ▶ We are ALL sinners in need of Jesus' forgiveness and grace! (Romans 3:23)
- ▶ We are called to speak the TRUTH IN LOVE (Ephesians 4:15)

What is a choice?

We are all tempted with various sins, some stronger to us than others. Being tempted is NOT a choice but how we respond is our choice. Having same-sex attractions or transgender feelings are NOT a choice. Claiming a same-sex/transgender identity label or participating in same-sex behavior IS a choice.

LAST THINGS TO REMEMBER:

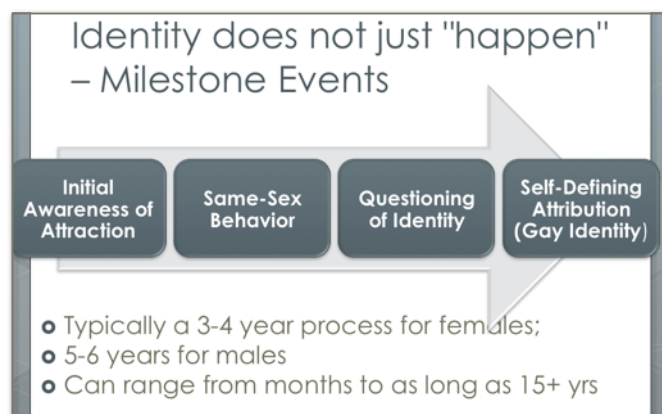

- 1) CREATE A SAFE PLACE IN SMALL GROUPS
- 2) WE CAN NOT TEACH OUR OPINION
- 3) WE ARE ALL IN THIS TOGETHER

You, your student, and their family are NOT alone. Student Ministry staff are here to partner with you and your students in helping them discover and follow God's incredible plan for their life! Talk to your campus staff ASAP if a transgender student wants to be in a different small group than their biological sex / sex assigned at birth. If you have more to talk through, contact Student Ministry Staff.

Adolescent Development

Sexual identity does not just happen instantaneously. There is a progression of milestones that happen as a person wrestles with their inner storm. Encourage your student not to label themselves but to seek godly wisdom and support. Adolescence is a time of significant physical, cognitive, and social development. Teens are in the Identity Role vs. Role Confusion Stage. The two main questions they ask themselves are, "Who am I?" and "Where do I belong?" It's important that the church has supportive answers for both. Lots of shame, guilt, and depression can come with this storm, but remind your students that Jesus came to set us free and overcome shame, guilt, and depression!

We don't have to have all the answers when we lead, we just need to walk alongside with the One who does!

When a Loved One 'Comes Out' By Hayley Mullins

Dear sister [or brother], perhaps you just received some surprising news.

It could be that your son just showed up at the front door and said, “I’m gay.” Perhaps your sister introduced you to her partner today. Or maybe the friend you’ve known for years tearfully revealed she’s struggling with same-sex attraction. It could be that someone you know is “transitioning,” going by another name and gradually changing their appearance to reflect the opposite gender.

If any one of the scenarios above resembles yours today, you may be feeling despair, ashamed, frustrated, wounded, confused, guilty, betrayed . . . or even angry with God. But in the midst of your emotions and uncertainty, God’s Word offers hope-filled answers for you today.

Seven Truths to Consider

1. Being “quick to listen, slow to speak, slow to become angry” is always a wise reaction.

It is easy, when emotions are high, to either lash out in anger or (in the name of love) to start throwing out Scriptures toward your loved one. Though sharing truth is right at its proper time, consider it may not be the first thing God is asking you to do. In the heat of the moment, the Bible gives us another way to respond—the way of wisdom:

Know this, my beloved brothers: let every person be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger; for the anger of man does not produce the righteousness of God (James 1:19–20).

The Lord, through James, tells us that a quick, emotional reaction will not change your loved one’s heart. Instead, your efforts to listen to them patiently may be what God uses to help them.

Their decision to tell you probably wasn't made overnight. It's more possible that they've been wrestling for a while . . . and have been experiencing some deep pain. They may even be expecting you to reject them. Letting them share honestly lets them know they are heard and loved—and will actually help you minister to them better. Their situation may not actually be what you assume, and the Scriptures you initially think they need may not be helpful for their struggle. Are you willing to wisely listen before you speak?

2. Regardless of their choices, your loved one is made in God's image and has value and worth.

Here's some deep, beautiful doctrine: God has graciously placed the imago Dei (image of God) in every person (Gen. 1:27). From the Garden of Eden, each man and woman has been given the privilege of reflecting God and His glory in Creation. Yes, sin—including sexual sin—has caused that image to be displayed imperfectly. But every human being is endowed with the gift of dignity, value, and worth in the eyes of their Creator.

That's true for the ones who seem most violent and inhuman and the young baby who cannot yet consciously choose to disobey God's law. Our enemy wants you to forget this truth so you'll reject and disrespect your loved one . . . because Satan hates God and all who bear God's image.

Your son changing his name or your cousin coming to Christmas dinner with a same-sex partner doesn't mean their value before God has diminished. His Creation ordinance still stands—and with it, our need to show all people respect as bearers of God's image. Recognizing this does not mean approving of all your loved one's choices, but it does mean approaching them with an attitude of respect.

3. Your and my sin (and need for the gospel) is the same, no matter our temptations.

We will never fully value and demonstrate the beauty of the gospel until we recognize our own neediness before God. Paul writes about this in Romans. After explaining that God has given His people spiritual advantages, he writes this:

But now the righteousness of God has been manifested . . . the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus (Rom. 3:21–24, emphasis added).

If you hold to the biblical teaching on sexuality and don't struggle with the same temptations, it can be tempting to look at your friend or relative with disgust. But do you look at your own sin and feel as repulsed? God has offered you grace in Christ—His overwhelming gift of love and blessing—because you needed it and couldn't earn it. Your sin, whether it's gossip or overeating or anger, needs God's forgiveness, mercy, and grace as much as your neighbor's—and that is true if they do practice homosexuality.

If you're thinking, I do recognize my neediness . . . and it's overwhelming!, here's hope: Your neediness is exactly what qualifies you to help others. As you experience your weakness and God's grace in it, you can then be a humble, effective vessel of God's mercy toward your loved ones.

4. According to Scripture, embracing their same-sex desires isn't God's best for them . . .

This is one of the hardest truths of Scripture: God is not honored by sexual relationships between people of the same gender. If you're reading this post, you may already embrace this truth (or you're wrestling with it). You know verses like Romans 1:26–27, where Paul describes these acts as “dishonorable” and “contrary to nature.” You've read the lists of sins elsewhere in the New Testament where the practice of homosexuality is listed as a mark of unrighteousness (1 Cor. 6:9) and “contrary to sound doctrine” (1 Tim. 1:10).

Yes, homosexual acts are sinful. This statement is true, but it's very tempting to just stop here. There's more to the story—and it requires more than simply throwing out Bible verses without love as grenades. (Do you see the ellipsis on the header above? Let the next truth finish the thought.)

5. . . . but obedience to God's commands and design can be a very hard road.

Consider the implications for your loved one to follow Jesus in their sexuality:

- They may have to give up someone they are deeply connected with.
- They may have to give up their community and identity.
- They may face deep loneliness.
- They may have seasons of depression and feeling unloved.
- They may face misunderstanding in the Church and outside.
- They will probably battle desires that cannot be fulfilled obediently.
- They may never have a family or children of their own.
- They may not be able to enjoy the physical intimacy of sex.

Jesus said following Him would be difficult and full of self-denial (Matt. 16:24). You probably feel some of that “cross of discipleship” each day—praying for a prodigal, feeling rejected by friends who want to gossip, submitting to an unwise decision of someone in authority. Let your experiences give you compassion toward your loved one. If they're struggling against their desires, look at that list and be willing to ask questions about their fears and pain. And if they are pursuing a same-sex relationship, consider that those may be some of the reasons. Can you enter into the difficulty with them? Is there a way, as their mom or sister or friend, that you can help provide for some of those needs?

6. God desires and is able to restore what is broken by sin's curse—including our sexuality, but it may not happen in this life.

After that last point, you may be feeling heavy-hearted. But there is hope. God “is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think” (Eph. 3:20). With this truth in your pocket, you can look at your loved one and think, If Jesus is their Savior, He can change them.

That said, while praying and hoping, we have to avoid creating an idol called “completely free from temptation.” God's plan for your loved one, even if He draws them to Himself, may not mean they'll experience automatic transformation. They will still struggle with temptation (probably even same-sex attraction). God may have marriage in mind for them; He may not. They could be on a long road of both victories and failings. But the goal is the same for all who follow Christ, whether they experience homosexual feelings or not. God's purpose for His children is always their sanctification and His glory—not attraction to the opposite gender.

The redemption of our bodies (and your loved one's sexuality) will not be complete until the day Christ returns. But take heart: In that day, there will be no sin, no temptation, no sorrow, no loneliness, and no pain for all who belong to Him. So as you trust the Lord with your loved one's situation, remember that He is able to turn it to good, and for His people, He will.

7. Showing Christ-like love means sacrificially seeking your loved one's welfare while pursuing God's glory.

This is where it gets practical and personal. Your loved one (like all of us) needs community, a family . . . and hope. Where better to experience these things than around your dinner table, in your church, and in the everyday stuff of life? This is especially important if they've already experienced rejection from others. As you long for their restoration and walk with them, your friendship and love are the most beautiful gifts you can give . . . because it reflects the heart of Jesus.

Our Savior ate with both the religious and the prostitutes and swindlers of His day. Remember that Jesus didn't make a distinction in welcoming people into His life based on their behavior, temptations, or lifestyle, as we're often prone to do. All sorts of people were welcome at His table, because that's where He taught and displayed the gospel. When the Pharisees questioned Him on the company He kept, He was bold and unashamed:

“Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. Go and learn what this means: ‘I desire mercy, and not sacrifice.’ For I came not to call the righteous, but sinners” (Matt. 9:12–13).

Consider this: If our meals are more of a meeting of self-righteous religiosity than a welcoming feast to a motley crew, are we really reflecting the heart of Jesus? When a loved one says, “I'm gay” or “I'm struggling,” should we not do the same as Christ did—showing hospitality to those who need a family, making room at the table for the outcast, and demonstrating mercy toward sinners?

Perhaps this last truth is difficult for you—it may raise questions in your mind about the implications. Yes, it looks messy. But grace rarely comes in when things are washed-up and clean. You may end up sitting by your loved one's side in the hospital after a suicide attempt and making room for them in your home (as Rosaria Butterfield once did).

Let's be honest: Your church friends may judge and look askance at you when your daughter, in a short haircut and men's clothing, walks through the door. As you show love and share your table with your loved one, you may face the same rejection as Christ did from the Pharisees. But remember, our Lord says, “I came for the ones (including us!) who need my friendship and salvation.” By sacrificing your comfort in this way, you can be God's means of showing Christ's grace in the world.

Also know that loving and welcoming does not negate any of the other truths above. We must seek God's best for our loved ones, which always means honoring Him first. We are never to sacrifice truth, but we also are not to sacrifice love. First John 3:18 says it best: “Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth.”

As you work through your own emotions and choose to show Christ's love, rest in the comforting truths above. And consider . . . our sovereign God is working behind your friend or relative's confession. They're sitting next to you for a reason; perhaps you are in their life “for such a time as this” (Est. 4:14).

TRAINING

Students can experience very serious issues, and sometimes they'll share heavy news with you. Even though you'd like to respect their privacy, you can't always promise a student you won't tell anyone.

There are three specific situations in which you'll need to tell Student Ministry staff, parents and possibly the authorities the content of what a student has shared with you. Each situation includes the word "harm." After a student has divulged something, if you think there's a possibility they're being harmed by others, harming themselves or intending to harm others, you need to gather all the information you can and call a Student Ministry staff member ASAP.

FAQ

Q: If a student shares this information in front of other students, what should I do?

A: We recommend thanking the student while other students are around and then asking him or her if you can move someplace where you can talk more in depth. You don't want to be alone with the student, but you could go to the side of the room or into an open space. Every situation is different. Do your best to read the situation and know God put you there for a reason. Ask Him to guide you.

Q: What if I'm not sure they're telling the truth?

A: It's best to assume up front they are telling the truth. We want to err on the side of caution, showing too much concern as opposed to too little.

Q: What if they're threatening to commit suicide in the moment?

A: In this case, getting the student immediate help is your first priority. If they're home, try getting their parents or guardians on the phone and tell them what's happening ASAP. If you can't reach them, call 911 yourself. If you're on the phone with the student at the time, text Student Ministry staff, asking them to call the parents and/or 911 (yes, you can text during a call on most phones). Once help is sent for the students, call Student Ministry staff.

YOUR FIRST STEPS:

- First, Thank the student for trusting you enough to share and having the courage to speak up.
- Second, Gather more information. Ask the student questions to learn more and make sure you have contact information for them and a guardian. Top question to ask: "What do you mean when you say _____?"
- Third, Inform the student that because you care for their safety and well-being, this is something you need to share with Student Ministry staff. Informing the student that you will let them know beforehand anytime you have to share this information with others builds trust.
- Fourth, Bring Student Ministry staff in the conversation ASAP. Find a staff member onsite and walk with the student to pull them aside OR if a staff member is not present, call them immediately. That staff member can then walk alongside you and the student through next steps.

Once you call Student Ministry staff, we will help walk you through the next steps.

Safety Guidelines

These guidelines are to protect both the student and the leader. We want to ensure our students and our leaders are physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually safe, both inside and outside of Student Ministry events. To reach this goal, we have some guidelines for leaders.

- 1 Remember the rule of three. When you are with students, there should always be three or more people. Never be alone with a student. Even if they ask for a ride to church, let them know you need another person in the car with you (can they invite a friend?). If they want to meet to talk about something personal one-on-one, ask to meet in a coffeeshop or somewhere you will be publicly visible the whole time you're together.
- 2 Make sure you have written parent permission anytime you drive or meet with a student outside of Student Ministry. This can be as easy as texting the student's mom or dad, "Hey, Chloe wanted to talk with me. Is it ok if we meet at Starbucks today at 4 p.m.?" and take a screenshot of their reply.
- 3 No pranks, bullying or hazing is allowed in Student Ministry. If your students talk about these things, let them know they're not acceptable. If your students participate in these, let Student Ministry staff know ASAP.
- 4 Review the "During a Crisis" materials and reach out to a staff member ASAP, even if you think something MIGHT qualify.

DURING A CRISIS

These questions are for you, the Small Group leader, to immediately and directly ask a student when they share sensitive information with you. The answers to these questions will help you and Student Ministry staff to assess what actions, if any, need to be taken.

Abuse (Being harmed by others)

- “WHAT DO YOU MEAN WHEN YOU SAY _____?”
- “Who has done this?”
- “What specifically did they do?”
- “When did this happen?”
- “Do you still feel threatened?”
- “Are you still in contact with this person?”
- “Do your parents know? Have you told anyone?”

Harm to Self (Big Four):

- “WHAT DO YOU MEAN YOU SAY _____?”
- “When was the last time you _____?”
- “Do you still _____? Are you having thoughts/temptations to _____?”
- “Do your parents know? Have you told anyone?”

Harm to Others (includes intention to harm others as well as driving while under the influence):

- “WHAT DO YOU MEAN WHEN YOU SAY _____?”
- “Do you have a specific plan on how to _____?”
- “When will you be around this person? When will you see them next?”

IF THERE IS CURRENT OR POTENTIAL DANGER OR HARM, THEN IMMEDIATELY:

1. Thank the student for trusting you enough to share and having the courage to speak up.
2. Gather more information. Ask the student questions to learn more and make sure you have contact information for them and a guardian. Top question to ask: “What do you mean when you say _____?”
3. Inform the student that because you care for their safety and well-being, this is something you need to share with Student Ministry staff. Informing the student that you will let them know beforehand anytime you have to share this information with others builds trust.
4. Bring Student Ministry staff in the conversation ASAP. Find a staff member onsite and walk with the student to pull them aside OR if a staff member is not present, call them immediately. That staff member can then walk alongside you and the student through next steps.

Safe Zone Procedure

The following flow chart guides you through the process of what to do when a student shares something that leads you to believe that they're being harmed, harming themselves or possibly harming others.
