

Joseph told his brothers about his dreams.

Joseph's
brothers threw him in a well and sold him to Egyptian
traders.

Potiphar's wife told a lie about Joseph and he was thrown in jail.

The drink taster
forgot about Joseph and how he could translate dreams.

Joseph was able to translate the baker and drink taster's dreams in jail.

The drink taster remembered Joseph a couple of years later, which allowed Joseph to translate Pharaoh's dreams.

Joseph stored up food and was able to help people from going hungry.

Joseph was able to help his brothers, because Joseph's brothers didn't recognize him as the second-in-command of Egypt.

There was a famine in all the land.

Joseph's
brothers didn't recognize him.

Joseph's
brothers ended up bowing down to him after Joseph saved
their lives.

Joseph earned Potiphar's trust
because God
was with him.
Potiphar was a captain of the guard for Pharaoh.

