Galatians 6:9 (NIRV)

Let us not become tired of doing good.

At the right time

we will gather a crop

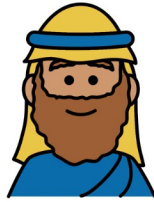

if we don't give up.

Acts 9

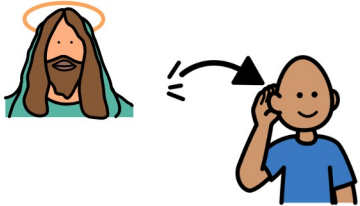

Saul (also known as Paul) was a Pharisee, one of the Jewish religious leaders. He believed that Jesus' followers were going against God's law.

He got permission to travel to other cities and arrest Jesus' followers there. He headed to Damascus to arrest believers there.

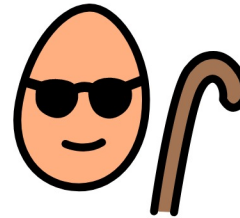

As he neared Damascus, Saul saw a blinding light. He dropped to the ground and he heard the voice of Jesus. Jesus asked Saul why he was opposing Him.

Jesus said to Saul, "Get up and go into the city. There you will be told what you must do."

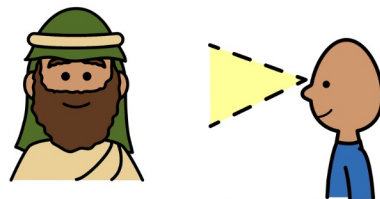

Saul obeyed even though he was now blind.

Meanwhile, God spoke to a believer named Ananias with instructions to go find Saul and place his hands on him to heal him of blindness.

Ananias knew Saul was there to arrest believers. But Jesus said, "Go, I have chosen this man to work for me. He will announce my name to gentiles, Kings and the people of Israel".

Ananias did what the Lord asked and Saul's sight returned. From that moment on Saul saw the world differently.

Saul immediately, started preaching about Jesus, which put him in a tricky position.

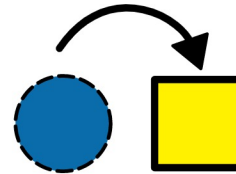

People were confused and some were angry. The very man that had come to arrest believers was now their greatest defender.

In fact, while Saul was in Damascus, the Jewish religious leaders tried to kill him. Saul escaped.

Later, in Jerusalem, Saul faced danger again, and escaped.

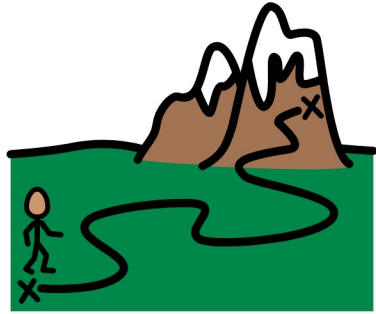

Saul's life had been completely transformed.

Saul continued to share the good news of Jesus.
